Dan brown movie lost symbol

Dan Brown is the author of numerous #1 bestselling novels, including The Da Vinci Code, which has become one of the best selling novels of all time as well as the subject of intellectual debate among readers and scholars. Brown's novels are published in 56 languages around the world with over 200 million copies in print. In 2005, Brown was named one of the 100 Most Influential People in the World by TIME Magazine, whose editors credited him with "keeping the publishing industry afloat; renewed interest in Leonardo da Vinci and early Christian history; spiking tourism to Paris and Rome; a growing membership in secret societies; the ire of Cardinals in Rome; eight books denying the claims of the novel and seven guides to read along with it; a flood of historical thrillers; and a major motion picture franchise." The son of a mathematics teacher and a church organist, Brown was raised on a prep school campus where he developed a fascination with the paradoxical interplay between science and religion. These themes eventually formed the backdrop for his books. He is a graduate of Amherst College and Phillips Exeter Academy, where he later returned to teach English before focusing his attention full time to writing. He lives in New England with his yellow lab, Winston. Brown's latest novel, Origin, explores two of the fundamental questions of humankind: Where do we come from? Where are we going? For the first time ever, Brown will adapt his book for the big screen with Goldsman producing the project alongside Weed Road Pictures' Greg Lessans. The animated feature — envisioned as a FANTASIA-esque musical experience, featuring music penned by Brown — follows the adventures of Maestro Mouse as he traverses the globe, recruiting an orchestra like no other. It is the first project to stem from MGM's first-look feature film production deal with Goldsman and his production company, Weed Road Pictures. Said Goldsman, "I'm so excited to join up with my old friend Dan Brown and my older friend Mike Deluca and company to bring this marvelous book of Dan's to the screen." Said Brown, "As a young child, I was absolutely enthralled by the film Fantasia and its magical fusion of animation and classical music. In many ways, my lifetime love of classical music began with film, and so I'm especially excited to be working with such talented partners to bring Wild Symphony to life in the form of an animated feature."
